Operatio and Dramatic Matters. last opera wook was rather a singular one in some cis, one opera being twice announced, but still re-ng unsung, and on Saturday evening "Norma" was with Madame Cortesi as the priortons. When the blie, or at least so many of them as wished to rom an affiche, that "in consequence of the continued indisposition of Madame Cortes;" the part of Norma would be sung by Parodi. At a later hour there appeared in the lobby another placard, on which it was stated that "Madame Cortesi had again disappointed the managers and the public." Thus there were two announcements quite in contradiction to each other, and indicating mosity which has existed between impreserit and prime donne from time immemorial had been rekindled. Of course there is a card from Madame Cortesi, who are to have opera at Niblo's, as well as at the Academy. Mr. Forrest plays only on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fri days, and the Cortesi troupe will sing on the alternate nights, commencing next Toesday, with "La Fravista," by Cortesi, Musiani and Amodio.

At Laura Keene's theater "The Monkey Boy" has managed to live through a storm of contradictory criticism, and will be retained for the present in the

A Mystranors Legary—Valland Levy in an Igon Box.—The Nunda Ness makes the following announcement of a windfull to the Hos. Lether C. Peck, of Angelica. The Ness says:—Louis Storts, a Pransian by birth, died at Lovejoy's Hotel, New York city, on Thursday, August 30, and left his entire property to Mrs. L. C. Peck, with of the Hon. L. C. Peck, of this place. The deceased comes to this country in 1827, and shortly after landing in New York engaged in the occupation of importing Prumian ahawis, where, it is supposed, be measaed considerable wealth. After a time he removed to Angelica, where he residen for about twenty years, dealing mostly is real entate. Soon after Mr. Bork arrived at Angelica be became acquainted with Mr. Peck, and a warm friendship has always exheted between them. In 1885, Mr. Stork becoming well advanced in years, being a bachelor, and having no friends in this country, made his will, by which he made for the country of the sole legates of his personal property and real estate, and L. C. Peck his sole executor. His property is cultimated at between thirty and forty thousand dollars. Mr. Stork went down to New York fast spring. At his death he left a large trunk, on the lander of which was an iron box, which he said contained everything in regard to his history and all that would be of interest to his friends, and that no human eye had ever seen the issuide of it except his now, and never would until epened by his executor. He was a very eccentric individual, and but little has ever been known of his marry history, some supposing that he was a man of extraordinary classification, speaking fluently flue different languages. Therefore, to those who have known his, there is a great anxiety to know what the iron box contains. Hr. Peck and son left for New York on Monday last to take charge of his personal property and examins the contents of the free box, and when they return we shall probably learn

Semi Anorem Criserial Princonsons—Brilliant interested on Saurana Nour.—About half past aims o'clock on Saurana Nour.—About half past aims o'clock on Saurana right another of those brilliant, singular and rare illuminations to which the favored inhabitants of New York havellately been treated lighted up the sky, and formed one of the most spiendid spectacles, in the way of celestial phenome. At that has ever been witnessed in this country. At the hour named a bright white light suddenly overspread the northern haif of the sky, almost hiding from sight by its superior brilliancy the myriads of little twinkling stars which dotted the heavens. This issted for a few moments, when the light changed to a delicate bluish green inti, next to yellow, and then to a variety of hous altogether, the castern section of the sky being alternately of the pisk, ormson and blood red shade. The changing of colors was the most beautiful spectacle that could be seen or imagined. As the astonished beholder gazed, the various hues and titus seemed to fade into each other, as frequently as the colors of the chamelion, and bright flashes of light, appearing to issue from some of the larger planets, darked across the sky, while every the minute or so the whole of this singular display of celestial pyrotechny would vanish as if by magic, giving piace to a sheet of bluish green light that threw a lovely tint on all terrestral objects. This speciacle continued until after two o'clock on Sunday morning. It should be mentioned that during the illumination a multitude of shooting stars were likewise observed, greatly adding to the beauty of the spectacle. It seems the summer and autumn of 1800 are to hold a memorable place in astronomical and meteorological records. Within the memory of that venerated individual (whoever he may be), "the oldest inhabitant," such a number of phenomen never occurred before within such a brief period. We have had comets, eclipses, meteors and day stars almost without number, and the illuminati

According to the best authority, the number of persons on board the Lady Rigin, when she left this port, was 303, including the crow. Of these 114 are reported as saved. This would leave 279 lost, of which the bodies of only sixty-seven have been recovered up to this time. There is good reason to believe, from the steward's statement and from other sources of information, that there were from three to four hundred people on board of that ill fated vessel the sight she wont down. Of these, the greater portion were people in limited circumstances, and mostly with large families. Fire in Wast Turkingers Streets—Turker Presence Ten-morning, an alarm of fire was given for the Third district, caused by the accidental upsetting of a glass lamp containing burning fluid, in the apartments of John Moran, at No 178 West Thirteenth street. It appears from the investigation made by Fire Marshal Baker, that John Moran, Daniel Moran and Slary Moran, brothers and sisters, kept house together at the above named premises. Daniel and John had inabled enough liquor to make them quarresisome, and a dispute arose between them, which resulted in the upsetting of the fluid ismp and the spreading of its contexts over their clothing. Mary's clothes were instantly in a blaze, and she ran directly to the yard. There the poor creature ran about acreaming until her clothing burned off, reasting her alive. The neighbors arrest of an alleged counterfeiter, and which, no doubt, prevented the circulation of a large amount of spurious money. About seven o'clock a young man named Johf O'Connell went into the store No. 140 West street, and, after drinking, presented a two dollar bill on the North Berwick Bank, North Berwick, Maine. The proprietor of the place, on examining the Bank Note Detector, could find no such bank registered, and believing it to be bad, arrested O'Connell, and handed him over to officers Henry and Barr. The prisoner was conveyed to the Third ward station house, where he was scarched, and on his person forty-five dollars in ones, two, threes, fives and tens on the above bank found, all spurious money. He had also sixty-seven dollars in good money in his several pockets, which is presumed to have been received in exchange for the bogus bills. As he could give no satisfactory explanation as to where he got the money, Captain Jemerson locked him up for the night. All the bills are beautifully executed, printed on fine paper, but the filling out poorly done. On the left of the tens is a vignette of a girl with a rose in her band, in the centre a girl weaving, and on either corper figures ten. On the fives, in the left hand corner, is the vignette of a blackamith shoeing a horse, on the right the coat of arms of the State of Maine, in the centre as small eagle with spread wings, and figure five on each side. In the left hand corner of the one dollar notes is a vignette of a farmer drinking, on the right, female with sewing machine, in the centre men and women husking corn, with figure one on the lower ends each side. A description was telegraphed by Mr. Chapin, operator, to all the stations, and the police notified to put the storekeepers on their guard.

Soon after the City Judge took his seat upon

SERT. 14.—Soon after the City Judge took his seat upon the bench this magning, he seatenced Bridget Lyon, who pleaded guilty the other day to receiving stolen goods, to imprisonment in the penitonitary for one year.

Re-Alderman Wilson pleaded guilty to an indictment for assault and battery, which he committed upon Alderman Russell, who is now one of the city fathery. There are no longthy details to relate in reference to the transaction. The fact on record is simply that onesthe 14th of May, while Wilson was in the vestibule of the City Hall, he took offence at something Russell and and "punished" him in the region of the nasal organ. The indictment did not set forth at what rate of speed "the claret" flowed, but the inference is that if Brother Russell was on unfortunate as to have donned a pair of "yellow kids" and a "white hat" on that morning, their virgin purity was materially defaced. Mr. Wilson will be sentenced on next Friday.

John McCabe was tried and convicted of stealing $100 in bank bills, from John Sperle, 542 Eighth avenue, on the 10th of August. As he was only fourteen years old he was sent to the House of Refugs.

John Reed, who was indicted for stabbing William Claspy with a knife, on the 8th of August, pleaded guilty to an assault with intent to do bodily harm, and was remanded for sentence.

John Smith, aliss Cabill, and George Walcot, who were indicted for burgtary in the second degree, pleaded guilty to the offence. They entered the dwelling house of Judge Pierrepout. In Fifth avenue, on the morning of the 19th of August, and ware it not for the vigilance of officers Shaw and Cyphers, of the Eighteenth precinct, the burglars would have succeeded to carrying away $315 worth of property. All the particulars of this case have been already published in the Haxann, so that it is unnecessary to recapitulate them now. The prisoners were each soul to the state prison for five years.

The case of James Shepard, who, it will be remembered, has been tried three times for aroon in the first degree an
